ECHOES FROM LAST WEEK'S GREAT FAIR. SUICIDE IN THE COUNTY JAIL. SEPTEMBER COURT NOW IN SESSION. IF YOU WANT THE NEWS, READ THE DEMOCRAT.

VOLUME XXXIX.

INDIANA, INDIANA COUNTY, PA., SEPTEMBER 19, 1900.

NUMBER 20.

COURT NEWS.

Criminal Court opened Monday at 1 o'clock, Judge White on the bench. The cases for trial this term are generally for minor offenses. In the case of the Commonwealth vs. Jesse Kelly, F. and B., the case was continued until the second Monday of next term. In the case of Commonwealth against William F. Craig and also Commonwealth vs. Hanna Craig, Jacob Groff, the prosecutor, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty and divided the costs equally between the prosecutor and defendants in each case.

The case in which the most interest was taken was that of the Commonwealth vs. Edward McCracken, who was charged with embezzlement from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and keeping fraudulent accounts. The amount embezzled aggregated something over $600. A plea of not guilty was entered in the case but was withdrawn and a plea of guilty entered. The Court has not yet pronounced sentence. Mr. McCracken is a young man of about 25 years of age and has been in the employ of the P.R.R. Co. as station agent at Homer. He formerly resided at Indiana, where he was well known and had a good standing in the community.

The cases of the Commonwealth vs. Frank L. Mentch, Com. vs. F. J. Strayer, Frank L. Mentch, Prosecutor, Com. vs. H. C. Cameron, F. L. Mentch, prosecutor, are now on trial. The crime charged in the various indictments are a. and b. and a. and b. The trouble arose over a dispute about some church matters in which fists and pekers took a prominent part. Each party claims that the other was the aggressor. The cases are likely to consume two or more days, as they are all being tried together.

His Honor yesterday morning gave the court house officers strict instruction to allow no loading, chewing tobacco or profane language in the corridors of the court house and to bring all offenders against this rule before him.

A STATEMENT.

Northwood Glass Works in Excellent Shape and with Bright Prospects.

Realizing the influence street gossip has on business, and on employees connected with certain industries, I feel justified in making a little statement relative to the Northwood Glass Works, Operated by The National Glass Company of Pittsburg, Pa.

Rumors are afloat, to the effect "That the Glass Works will close down in two weeks, that there are no orders, that other factories have and will get the business that used to come here, and that the plant is going to be taken away from here."

The works were never in better shape and the prospects for fall trade never brighter, lots of orders are on file, and every day more orders are received from all parts of the country. The works are running full, and this week the Decorating Department begins working over time demand, for our Decorated Lines being so great.

The officials of the National Glass Company are very much satisfied with the business sent them from these works and assure us that the plant will continue to be operated regardless of the wild rumors gotten out by dissatisfied and unreliable people.

HARRY WHITE, Jr., Superintendent.

A Novel Bill.

A short time ago Frank Mentch and Rev. Strayer had an altercation, full particulars of which appeared in the DEMOCRAT at the time. The whole trouble will be adjusted in the courts this week. Mr. Mentch, it appears, has now an anticipatory bill filed in the courts of the Evangelical sect and is making life a burden to them. He has filed the following novel account or bill with one of our local justices for collection, and says that he will collect the account if at all possible. Rev. J. A. Shaffer, against whom the account is filed, is a witness against Mentch in the case coming up this week. The following is a literal copy of the bill:

Rev. J. A. Shaffer,
To FRANK MENTCH, Dr.
To 4 weeks and 5 days, starting at 75 cents per day, beginning Nov. 20, '99, $24.75
To wife's boarding, 4 weeks, $21.00
To his two children boarding, 4 weeks, $1.00
To board of horse for 4 weeks and 5 days, 16.50
Total, $83.25

OK.
By services for family worship at $1 for each service, $66
Less 1/2 the value of services for family worship, while his wife and family were present, 28
$38 38
Balance due Mentch, $45.25

Farmers' Institutes.

The following places have been selected at which Farmers' Institutes will be held in this county: Parkwood, December 3rd and 4th; Ambrose, December 5th and 6th; Richmond, December 7th and 8th. Good programs will be prepared, and several speakers sent out by the state will address each meeting.

S. M. McHENRY, Chmn.

A Big Fire.

The residents of Indiana were awakened about 4 o'clock last Wednesday morning by the blowing of the fire whistle. The fire was discovered to be at the barn of J. C. Agey, about two miles south east of town. Mr. Agey had been working to get some phosphate into his barn before the arrival of a storm which was threatening and the wind blew the barn door shut, upsetting the lantern and scattering the burning oil over the hay. The barn burst into flames immediately and the only thing saved was the live stock. Loss $2,000, insurance $1100.

A GREAT FAIR.

THE INDIANA COUNTY FAIR LAST WEEK WAS THE BIGGEST HELD IN MANY YEARS.

Big Displays, Good Races and Enormous Crowds Helped to Make the Best Fair We Ever Had.

Never have the grounds of the Indiana County Agricultural Society contained as big a crowd as they did last Thursday. The sale of single admission tickets reached about 15,000 for the day and a conservative estimate puts the number of people on the grounds at 23,000. The attendance for the three days is estimated at 35,000, which makes a record for any fair in our history. The display of stock and farmers' products was better than we have ever had at any county fair, although the stock display was better at the time of the State Fair, and the exhibition showed very plainly that Indiana county is upholding her reputation for good farming. The management was very much disappointed by the non-appearance of Lotto, the high diver, who was to have given exhibitions on the grounds, and are at a loss to account for his conduct. His manager, a native of this county, A. J. Kelly, of near Shelocta, promised very positively that he would be here and has as yet given no reason why he did not come. The races were as a rule interesting and hotly contested, and, although 2:18 was the best time made, it is safe to say that the racing was as good as that given at any of the county fairs this year. The lack of fast horses in these races is very deplorable but the fact is that the speedy trotters and pacers have all been gathered up for private use and the few horses that are left in this section that can travel a mile under 2:15, will not race for a purse much under $1,000, which is more than the fair management can afford under the present circumstances. The prevention of all gambling devices, book-making and pool-selling, while it prevents our people from being robbed by a lot of sharpers, at the same time, deprives the fair of a big source of revenue and precludes any idea of giving large purses for the races. The dropping of the free-for-all race from the program was made necessary by injuries to two of the horses entered, and the efforts of the managers to provide a thoroughly honest and interesting special race in its place were unsuccessful. Rather than have a fake race, the managers decided to do without one. The ladies' riding match was very interesting and Mr. Denny had a hard row to hoe in distributing the prizes. Taking into consideration the fact that all the exhibitors for premiums were citizens of the county, the displays were the best we ever had. The stockholders in the society will be interested to learn that they will receive interest on their contributions this year, although the rate has not been determined. The races resulted as follows:

Ladies' Riding Match. Prizes given for most graceful riders. First prize, diamond ring, Miss Ollie Mack, Indiana; second prize, $5, Miss Agnes Lawson, Marion Center; third prize, $8, Miss Maude Moore, Indiana.

The prizes were awarded by J. F. Denny, of Johnstown, who acted as judge. All the ladies were highly complimented by Mr. Denny, and the decision was rather difficult to make.

Griffith's Postoffice and Political Directory of Indiana County.

John S. Griffith, ex-clerk of the Register and Recorder's office, has issued a new and complete Postoffice and Political Directory of the citizens of Indiana county, which includes all the changes up to September 5, 1900. No person in Indiana county has such a perfect knowledge of the citizens of the county as Mr. Griffith who has been employed about the court house in different capacities for many years, and has always filled his place with credit to the county and himself, and no person in the county was so eminently fitted to prepare a directory of the county. It is plainly and carefully printed and its arrangement is complete and comprehensive, and it will be found strictly reliable. This directory should be in the hands of every politician and business man in the county. A large edition has been issued but Mr. Griffith has a large number of orders for the Directory already booked and those who desire a copy should apply at once before the edition is exhausted. The price has been fixed at $1.50 per copy, and it is easily worth double that price. All orders should be addressed to John S. Griffith, Indiana, Pa. All remittances should be made by registered letter or money order to the same address.

DIED.

Isaac Baldwin died at his home in White township on Monday, of general debility. He was about 70 years of age and is survived by four sons and one daughter, Mrs. Wm. Hefflinger, of this place. He was born in Armstrong county and came here many years ago, settling in White township. Funeral services to-day. Interment in Greenwood.

Tickets good returning until following Saturday Rate from Dayton $2.80.

Religious Notes.

Rev. H. S. McClintock will preach at Christian Church Lord's Day morning and evening, the pastor, D. M. Kinter, will preach at Bolivar.

The coal field east of Leechburg on the Armstrong county side of the Kiskiminetus, which was purchased by Captain Hicks last winter, is to be opened up this fall. The Pennsylvania company will lay a track up the old tow path, which in time will connect with Apollo.

CUT HIS THROAT.

CORNELIUS McCUE, A PRISONER IN THE INDIANA COUNTY JAIL COMMITTED SUICIDE EARLY SUNDAY MORNING.

Was Not Found Until Almost 8 O'Clock, When the Deputy Went in to Give the Prisoners Their Breakfast.

Cornelius McCue, of Burrell township, who was put in jail last Friday evening, charged with larceny upon his own confession, committed suicide in one of the cells on Sunday morning, supposedly between 1 and 2 o'clock. It appears that the prisoners had recently been allowed to shave themselves and on Saturday McCue had gotten the razor, with which he cut his throat, from old man Vasbinder, one of the other prisoners, for the purpose of shaving himself. After he had shaved he gave back the shaving cup and brush and razor case, which Vasbinder supposed contained the razor. It seems, however, that McCue hid the razor and after the other prisoners had gone to bed, slipped down stairs, and getting into a dark cell cut his throat. The suicide is supposed to have taken place about 1:30 on Sunday morning as one of the prisoners who was awake heard a sound as though of choking about that time. The deed was not discovered until about 7:30 in the morning, when Deputy Neal opened the jail and awakened the prisoners for breakfast. Prisoner Vasbinder was the first to notice the man lying in the cell and he immediately called the deputy and an examination showed that it was McCue. The coroner was notified and empanelled a jury who brought in a verdict to the effect that the deceased had met his death by bleeding from a wound inflicted by his own hand. An examination of the wound showed that the man had severed all the big arteries and veins in his neck and death must have come to him within five minutes of the time the cutting was done. The remains were taken to Sloan's undertaking establishment and prepared for burial. The funeral services were held at Blacklick yesterday.

McCue was originally brought to jail last spring charged with assault and battery with intent to kill by his wife and daughter, but was acquitted at the last June court on the plea of insanity. His wife paid the costs of the suit and he went back home. He has been for some time a pauper on Burrell township, part of the expense of keeping him being paid by Pine Creek township, Jefferson county, from whence he came to Blacklick.
